

This file used to contain the book I wrote for my "History of Aviation Technology" class, taught at Stanford as ME 191.

Over the past couple of days, this file has been downloaded a HECK of a lot. All of a sudden, my server's bandwidth use went up by 1 or 2 orders of magnitude. So I'm taking the big book file down for now. When I find someplace where I can host it cheaply, I'll put the URL in this document, and update the links in my AirplaneDesign.info website.

Sorry about the inconvenience. But if I don't do this, my hosting company will charge me a bunch of money and/or pull the plug on my three websites for a month.

Further bulletins as events warrant.
